The aim of EUCON is to explore the full range of EU-EEU relations, which is characterized by conflict and competition, convergence and cooperation. EUCON brings together expertise on cultural, historical, geopolitical, economic and business aspects. It goes into depth, balancing different perspectives from the EU countries and the EU/EEU countries. For this purpose, we carry out workshops and international summer schools, joint researches, teach seminars applying innovative didactic methods, design interactive learning websites, hold roundtables, and joint social events to present the results of the project and foster a wider awareness to a larger audience beyond the scientific field.	300,000

It is compulsory part of the MA in European Studies curriculum; additionally it is offered as optional course for international relations, law and sociology students. A module on migration is taught for the first time in the frames of the MA in European Studies. The module is result of interdepartmental cooperation of YSU's departments. It is multidisciplinary in its structure and approach. MIPEC is divided into three parts where each is designed or modified to meet general objective of the module and the curriculum, syllabus structure, identification of learning outcomes, etc. The courses are taught by four professors from different departments (law, political science, linguistics, Centre for European Studies). The established network for Developing the European Studies in Caucasus has enhanced the level of EU studies in the Caucasus and contributed to development of all consortium partners. The scholarly Association for European Studies in Caucasus (AESC) has been founded by the network as a non-entrepreneurial (non-commercial) legal entity under Georgian law. According to its statute, AESC supports science and research, general political education as well as crossborder co-operation in the countries of the wider Caucasus (Armenia, Azerbaijan, Georgia, Russian Federation, Turkey) and the other neighbouring countries. AESC has 96 registered members as to date, from a number of organizations, including but not limited to various academic institutions, e.g. NGOs, Ministry of Labour and Social Protection of Population of the Republic of Azerbaijan, European Community Studies Association Moldova.	12.096,00
